-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Response to Amendment

Applicant's arguments filed on August 21 2007 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

- Claims 1-20 are presented for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e as being anticipated by Brown et (20040199636).

As per claims 1, 10 and 18, Brown teaches a service-oriented architecture in which a client invokes a Web service from a Web service provider using a dynamically selected transport binding, a method of invoking said Web service comprising (fig. 6) the steps of: negotiating selecting a service transport binding for a Web service invocation from said Web service provider in a negotiation selection process using a first transport binding (para. 0025 and 0032); and handling conducting subsequent communications between said client and said Web service provider relating to said Web service invocation using the service transport binding negotiated selected in said negotiation selection process using said first transport binding (para. 0026 and para. 0032-0034).

As per claims 2,11 and 19, Brown teaches the method of claim 1 in which said client is on a client side of a communication path, said steps being performed on said client side of said communication path (para. 0025 and 0032).

As per claims 3,12 and 20, Brown teaches method of claim 1 in which said Web service provider is on a server side of a communication path, said steps being performed on said server side of said communication path (para. 0026 and 0043-0045).

Art Unit: 2153

As per claims 4 and 13, Brown teaches method of claim 1 in which said client is on a client side of a communication path and said Web service provider is on a server side of said communication path, said service the selected transport binding being negotiated directly between said client side and said server side of said communication path (para. 0025-0026 and 0043-0045).

As per claims 5 and 14, Brown teaches method of claim 1 in which in which said client is on a client side of a communication path and said Web service provider is on a server side of said communication path, said steps are being performed on said client side and said server side of said communication path (para. 0025-0026 and 0043-0045).

As per claims 6 and 15, Brown teaches method of claim 1 in which said Web service invocation passes through one or more intermediary nodes along a communication path between said client and said server as end nodes, said method steps being performed by one of said intermediary nodes with an adjacent node along said communication path between said client and said server (fig. 1 ; para. 0025-0026 and 0043-0045)..

Art Unit: 2153

As per claims 7 and 16, Brown teaches method of claim 1 in which said Web service invocation passes through one or more intermediary nodes along a communication path between said client and said server as end nodes, said method comprising the steps of: having each pair of adjacent nodes along said communication path between said client and server negotiate a service transport binding for a portion of said Web service invocation passing between said nodes in a negotiation process between said nodes; and having each pair of adjacent nodes handle conduct subsequent communications relating to the portion of said Web service invocation passing between said nodes using the service transport binding negotiated in said negotiation process between said nodes (para. 0025-0026 and 0043-0045; fig. 1 and 6).

As per claims 8, Brown teaches method of claim 1 in said client is located on a client side of a communication path and said Web service is located on a server side of said communication path, said negotiating selecting step comprising the step of: determining whether said server side is capable of negotiating a service transport binding; if said server side is determined to be capable of negotiating a service transport binding, negotiating a service transport binding with said server side; and otherwise, selecting a service transport binding on the basis on information available on the client side of said communication path without negotiating with said server side (para. 0025-0026 and 0043-0045)..

As per claims 9, Brown teaches method of claim 8 in which said service the selected transport binding is selected on the basis of diagnostic information available on the client side of said communication path (para. 0025-0026 and 0043-0045)..

Conclusion

ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

The prior made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
